Practicing Law in the New Economy

Context, Skills and Ideas for Success in Integrative Civil Law Practice

Wednesday, May 28th

William S. Boyd School of Law • Room 110

Our world is changing and many of those changes are affecting clients' needs and demands from their lawyers

6.5 HOURS OF NEVADA CLE CREDITS (INCLUDING 1 ETHICS HOUR)

J. Kim Wright, author of the ABA best-seller, "Lawyers as Peacemakers: Practicing Holistic, Problem-Solving Law" will offer an overview of recent developments in the business and legal worlds and how you can adapt your practice to meet those new circumstances. Topics covered in the seminar will include: Systems Change and Evolution; Lessons from the Conscious Business Movement; Integrative Law Models; and Contracts for the New Paradigm. This seminar will provide valuable information on how to best serve clients in the new economy.

Registration begins at 8:30 am • The Program begins at 9 am

Kim Wright is a pioneer, leader and change agent in the area of integrative law. Kim's legal work is focused on Conscious Contracts, helping conscious businesses align their legal documents with their expressed mission, vision and values, creating sustainable relationships with their own built-in conflict resolution systems. In recognition of her work, The American Bar Association (ABA) named Kim as a "Legal Rebel, finding new ways to practice law, represent their clients, adjudicate cases and train the next generation of lawyers," in 2009.
